

DEATH OF DR. J. C. STOVER

BREAKDOWN ENDS FATALITY IN HIS 55TH YEAR.

Has Been Called "King of the Apple Orchards" by Reason of His Large Holdings.

Dr. James Grayson Stover, a well-known physician of Bendersville, and often spoken of as "King of the Apple Orchards," died at his home last Saturday morning at the age of 54 years, 8 months and 8 days. Dr. Stover had a large practice and during the past winter had been through months of hard work, going day and night, giving medical attention over a wide scope of country. He had a breakdown on Wednesday of last week and seemed to be so exhausted that there was nothing to build recovery upon.

Dr. Stover was a son of the late ex-Register and Recorder and Mrs. S. P. Stover, of McKnightstown, and received his earlier education in the public schools of Franklin township. Later he attended Gettysburg College and graduated in 1892 from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore. He located in Bendersville and began the building of a large practice.

About twenty-five years ago he acquired an old farm for about three thousand dollars. It was about the time the apple orchard movement was beginning and he planted the entire farm in apple trees. He bought other land and more apple trees were planted, and his holdings became so large that he was referred to as the King of the Apple Orchards, and then there was a time of wondering of what the outcome would be. The fruit began to come and Dr. Stover was harvesting apples by the thousands of barrels. It has been said that the farm he paid $3000 for he had offered when the apple trees began to bear, of $75,000 and $100,000 and when the apple crops began to come in abundance, often it has been heard that Dr. Stover had cleaned up from $50,000 to $75,000 from his apple crop.

Dr. Stover, with the means at his hands, became one of the progressive citizens of his town. It was through his efforts the town was given a water plant, and when the Bendersville National Bank was organized in 1908, he was selected as the President and held the position to the present time. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Patriotic Order Sons of America, of Bendersville, and of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and Sons of Veterans, of Gettysburg. He was also a member of the Adams County Medical Society. Dr. Stover is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gaynell Geyer Stover. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning from his residence in Bendersville, conducted by the Rev. W. D. E. Scott, with interment at Fidler's Cemetery.

New Ice Cream Law in Force.

The new ice cream law, approved by Governor Pinchot on March 20, went into full force and effect on the date of its approval. It strengthens and improves the law that it replaces and will insure for the people of Pennsylvania a higher quality ice cream.

The purpose of the law is to prevent the use of coconut fat and other foreign fats and oils in the manufacture of ice cream. It also prohibits the use of paraffin in chocolate-coated ice cream and bars the use of other substances injurious to health.

The legalized use of gum aragacanth in ice cream making is eliminated in the new measure and the sale of any imitation or substitute for ice cream under any coined or trade name is also prohibited.

It is further declared unlawful to offer ice cream for sale from any cabinet or container which contains any article other than ice cream, as for instance, oysters or fish.

In brief, the present law prohibits the use of all chemicals and doubtful substances that can prove injurious to the well-being of the consumer. Cream and its products will henceforth be the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of ice cream.

This law has been rigorously advocated by the ice cream manufacturers of Pennsylvania who are as anxious to inject strict cleanliness and wholesomeness into the ice cream industry as is the State Department of Agriculture. Secretary Frank P. Williams has appealed to every member of the industry to co-operate with the Bureau of Foods in carrying the provisions of the law into effect with the least possible delay and difficulty.

Copies of the law will be forwarded to field agents of the food bureau and other interested persons as soon as a printed supply is available.

Old House Disappears.

Storm sold the old weatherboarded house west of his brick residence to John Waddle for $50. The house was occupied by Cassatt Thompson for many years. This house must have been nearly 150 years old, for those who knew have been heard to say that it was the first house erected in that part of the town east of the run, crossing the street, about two hundred feet westward. When house was torn down the greater number of logs, of which it was formed, were found as solid as the day they were when put into the house. The material was removed to use in a house to be built on South Washington street.

FARM TOPICS

The Farm Home Acre of Fruit.

An ideal farm home fruit garden, planned to meet future needs with a definite aim in view, has been laid out by the agricultural extension service of the Pennsylvania State College. It is a plan that will best meet Pennsylvania conditions and is announced through the Adams County Farm Bureau.

The farm home acre of fruit to be most useful should contain apple, pear, quince, cherry, plum and peach trees; grape vines, currant and gooseberry bushes, red and black raspberry plants, blackberry and strawberry plants. The varieties would of course vary with the taste of the planter and also with the section of the state in which the fruit acre is grown.

The following varieties have been selected as probably fulfilling most nearly the requirements for the average Pennsylvania farm:

Fifteen apple trees: Yellow Transparent, Duchess, Williams Wealthy (2), Grimes (2), Jonathan, Wagener, Stayman (2), Baldwin (2), Spy, Ten peach trees: Greensboro, Rochester, Hilev, Elberta (4), Crosby, Smock and Selway. One year medium peach trees should be planted. Other tree fruits should be two year medium size or one year largest size. Four cherry trees: Early Richmond, Montmorency (2), Governor Wood. Two pear trees: Bartlett, Seckel. Seven plum trees: Imperial Gage, Fellemburg, Abundance, Burbank (2), Moore's Arctic, Shropshire Damson. One quince tree, orange.

Forty-eight raspberries: Cuthbert-Cumberland.

Twenty-four blackberries: Eldorado.

Twelve Currants: Perfection.

Six gooseberries: Downing.

Four Grape vines: Concord (2), Niagara, Delaware.

Thirty-six Strawberries: Premier.

Such a garden would cost $25 to $32 depending upon the nursery from which the plants are secured. The Extension Department at State College is anxious to co-operate with anyone interested in planting a home fruit garden, and will gladly give advice and suggestions as to varieties, laying out the garden, planting and care. Requests may be sent to the county agent at the Farm Bureau office, or direct to Prof. Paul Thayer, extension pomologist at State College, Pa.

Forest Fire Season.

The spring forest fire season is at hand. Great care should be exercised by city and township who will soon be taking walks through the woods, that they leave no fire that is not thoroughly extinguished so as to prevent disastrous forest fires. Great toll of timberland in the State is taken annually because of carelessness.

The Adams County Farm Bureau has just received word from George H. Wirt, chief forest fire warden of Pennsylvania, and he suggests "calling attention to the desirability of cleaning up brush and other waste material both on the farm and in the woods, but that if such material is burned that owners and tenants burn it at a time, place and under such conditions that the uncertain winds of the spring season will not carry sparks into the woodlands."

Adams county farmers are already very careful in the use of fire and the woodland and mountain "hikers" from the towns are urged to co-operate in making the county record as nearly 100 per cent careful as possible this spring.

Soy Beans Valuable Crop.

Since the farmers of Adams county have a milk market which enables them to turn roughage to milk production at a profit, we know of no better crop to seed than soy beans. Soy beans yield from two to three tons of hay equal in feeding value to any of the clover, running 8.8 per cent in true digestible protein, with alfalfa having only 6.7 per cent true digestible protein. The seed should be sown from the 20th of May to the 1st of June to give best results, on a seed bed prepared for corn at the rate of 5 pecks to the acre with the grain drill on the oat side of the drill. It is well to use about 200 lbs. of acid phosphate to the acre. The most popular varieties for hay are the Wilson and Virginia. The hay will mature in about 80 or 90 days, being harvested between the 15th and 25th of August. They should be harvested and cured in small shocks, what could be conveniently handled by a single fork full. The shocks should remain out 5 to 7 days when they can safely be hauled to the barn. Soy beans belong to the family of legumes and therefore should be inoculated. The culture can be obtained from any of the seed houses or the County Farm Bureau will be glad to assist in procuring the same. Remember that soy beans can be procured from a bulletin published in April 1921, by the Penna. State College, from the Farm Bureau direct.

Angoumois Grain Moth Control.

Scores of Adams county farmers are taking steps to get rid of the angoumois grain moth which last year caused millions of dollars worth of damage to the State wheat crop, according to County Agent Hoffman. As he makes his daily trips to the rural sections of the county, the State College extension representative is urging every farmer he sees to clean all chaff, straw and dust from the barn mows and floors in keeping with the program advocated by the State College specialists and the State Department of Agriculture. April is "grain moth clean-up month" for farmers all over the State and is the first step in the greatest effort ever staged in Pennsylvania to rid the farming districts of a dangerous pest.

Democratic Landslide in Chicago.

The Democratic National Committee has issued the following note of rejoicing over the victory of the Democratic Mayoralty ticket in Chicago.

"The sweeping Democratic victory in the Chicago Mayoralty election is not only an overwhelming repudiation of Republican misrule, extravagance and wastefulness in municipal affairs, but a protest against the general distressful economic conditions under which the country has suffered since the Republican Party came into power in 1918.

"By the election of Judge William E. Dever as Mayor by a plurality of 103,748, Chicago has returned to Democratic normalcy and has fittingly rebuked the Republican municipal elections whose campaign was characterized by malignity and falsehood. One eleventh-hour falsehood was that the Democratic National Committee had contributed $50,000 to Judge Dever's campaign fund.

"Coming upon the heels of the election of that fine Democrat, Frank E. Doremus, as Mayor of Detroit, the election of a Democratic Mayor in the second city of the United States gives Democrats everywhere a double reason for rejoicing."

Coal Tragedy Due to Lack of "Sand."

Blame for the extortion and suffering to which the people of New York were subjected all last winter by reason of the shortage of coal is fixed on the Harding administration by Col. George W. Goethals, former State Fuel Administrator of New York. Col. Goethals was an intimate friend and is a fervent admirer of Theodore Roosevelt.

"The whole trouble is at Washington," Col. Goethals declared. "We have no executive government at Washington. If there had been a government at Washington when I took charge here on January 10, we could have done things."

"The people have been obliged to suffer from freezing, from extortionate prices, from improper diversion of coal, because there wasn't enough sand at Washington to assert itself in the State of Pennsylvania."

"Let me tell you something: I never voted in a general election but once in my life, and that was in the last presidential election. I voted for Harding and his administration. I haven't been able to vote in the past because I have been out of the country or so far away from my voting place in New England that I could not get there."

"But if the present administration, including President Harding, is up for re-election, I'll drop everything else to go up home and vote the opposite ticket."

National Banks Can be Trustees.

National Banks in this State now are eligible to compete with trust companies in the matter of acting as executors, administrators and guardians of minors interested in estates. Their right was established this week by the Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Justice Frazer in the test suit of the Commonwealth against the Corn Exchange National Bank of Philadelphia, which had applied for permission to act as guardian in the estate of Edna Frisbie Turner.

The decision was handed down after a long legal battle waged in the Orphans' and Superior Courts. The Superior Court, on appeal, decided that the bank had the right to act as guardian, which had been denied by the Orphans' Court. The case then went to the Supreme Court.

Under the Supreme Court decision, sweeping in its ruling, and eagerly awaited by the banking interests of the State, national banks may now share in the huge profits accruing from the handling of what is known as the business of Orphans' Court, which is continually growing. The extent of this class of business may be appreciated from the fact that the trust funds handled by three large trust companies in Philadelphia amount to a billion dollars.

GINGHAM S

There is something about the new gingham that naturally attracts us to them in Spring. Every piece on our shelves has its own particular drawing power. The patterns are beautiful. There are many new ones besides the standard checks that have been so popular for the past several seasons. The beautiful plaids combined with plain gingham to match makes a dress that can be worn everywhere.

Around the clock with Gingham

- 7.00 A. M. Put on a neat house dress of gingham you can find nothing more serviceable or attractive.
- 11.00 A. M. Change to a light gingham frock after the morning work is done and dinner well on its way.
- 1.00 P. M. Dinner over and the dishes put away you will find that a fancy gingham dress for street or calling will be most appropriate.
- 6.00 P. M. Your afternoon dress of gingham will still be good for an evening on the porch, country club, movies or any place else.
- 11.00 P. m. Time to retire. For comfortable sleeping Gingham Pajamas for yourself and husband will be best.

A BIT OF ADVICE.

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache, headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Gettysburg residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Gettysburg citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

Ask your neighbor. J. J. Eiker, prop. taxi business, 226 N. Stratton St. Gettysburg, says: "I had a lot of kidney trouble which came on through a cold. When lying in bed, my back would hurt badly and every time I made a turn, a sharp, stabbing pain caught me in my back. During the day there was a constant soreness and pain in my back which caused more than a little trouble. My kidneys were inactive and I knew they were affected because the secretions were unnatural in color. I had the right medicine all right when I took Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a box of this remedy and it helped me. A few boxes put my back in the best of shape and restored my kidneys to a normal condition again."

Twenty-five Million Dollars' worth of New Equipment will be added to the Bell System in Pennsylvania this year

HALF a million miles of new wire, thirty-five new building operations, seventy thousand new telephones, ten million dollars' worth of central office equipment—such is our program for 1923.

And all this in addition to the tremendous amounts of new plant added in the last three years, which was more than in any six previous years in Pennsylvania's telephone history.

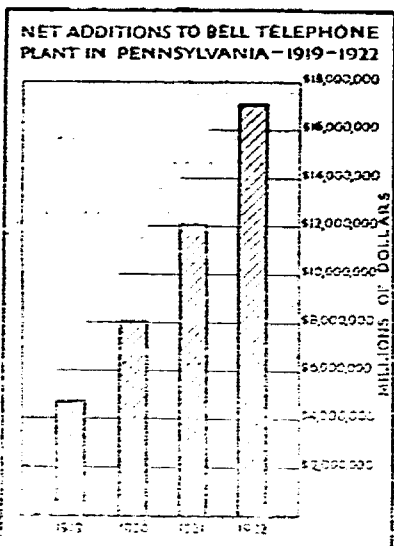

There is an enormous demand for telephone service. Twenty-five million dollars in one year is our effort to meet this demand.

SAVE 13½% on coal

TESTS have shown that over-coating an old frame house with Portland Cement stucco effects a saving of 13½% on coal. Add to this the saving on painting expense and the continual little repairs that permanence eliminates.

Many old homes cannot be improved on for general appearance, general comfort. But permanence and upkeep saving can be added at small cost. Ask your building material dealer how.
